

5/4 Parts of My Heart

xens

Ever since we meet,
we were more than friends.
But as the years went by,
nothing was like we desired.

Despite all these facts
we were just alive.
Trying to cover with lies,
everything our life lacks.

We kept holding on,
until one of us was brave enough to explore,
and then it was when the storm began.

No time to think about,
love that was in me,
the love that grew stronger between us.

And now I got something to say,
that it may not be great.
But it's all inside my feelings,
and those will never change.

And thought you might think it's too late,
to ask you to change.
Need to know,
Would you or should I date angels instead?

Let's say we never met.
Wouldn't that be weird?
Wouldn't that be safe?
Is it what you prefer?

Last thing I've got to say,
thank for all your games.
They made me who I am,
and prouder of myself.

Making me hold on,
until I'm brave enough to explore into the kaos,
so I created a storm.

No time to think about,
love that was in me,
so naive I thought it was between us.

And now got something to say,
I don't care if it's not great.
But it's all inside my feelings,
and those will never change.

And thought you might think it's wrong,
I haven't moved on.
Need to know,
Should I wait for you or for angels to come?
